

About Dr. Betty Ann Young

Dr. Young was the coordinator of Alternative Education, Dropout Prevention, and Summer School for a number of years. During that time she realized that many of the alternative students had the potential to attend college or participate in post secondary workforce training but lacked the funds to do so. She also realized that many alternative students did not qualify for traditional scholarships. Upon her retirement, she established a scholarship fund for alternative students to help them fulfill their goals.