INFORMATION

The Articulated Instruction Module (AIM) is an alignment and articulation tool that documents as well as enhances communication related to student academic progress for students, parents, educators, schools, and central office staff. The module provides reports that reinforce alignment with the Voluntary State Curriculum and other standards as well as affirm the relationship between written, taught, and assessed curriculum throughout the school system. In addition to the above, the module includes a component for reporting of student academic progress in specific content, knowledge, and skill areas. Overall, the Articulated Instruction Module is intended to enhance the education of all students throughout Baltimore County Public Schools.

Articulated Instruction Module

Welcome Raveender Chitk

The Articulated Instruction Module (AIM) is a web-based system that provides a comprehensive view of students, staff, and parents of the student's progress in specified key areas and related to the student's progress in the system. The system provides a comprehensive view of the student's progress in the system, while at the same time demonstrating alignment with the Voluntary State Curriculum, Core Learning Goals or National Standard.

AIM enhances the principle of progress reporting; instead of just saying whether homework was done or class work completed, it addresses specific skills and provides current and subsequent teachers with information that will allow them to develop their instructional program as well as further individualize instruction.

	Period : Quarter 1	Report Date : 05/06/2007
Directions: This report details the student's progress as related to key learning objectives based on performance of knowledge and skills for that objective for the designated time period. The columns containing A, L, or M provide information about the student's achievement level related to the Objective and Knowledge and Skill Indicators. "A" indicates that the student is at what would commonly be called a remedial stage and needs Acceleration in that objective area. "L" indicates that the student needs further instruction or reinforcement with the teacher assistance in specific skill/knowledge/concept area. "M" indicates that the student is either at or approaching Mastery in this skill.
